No One Can
Libel Washington

Convicted of criminally libelling George Washington, first president of the United States, Paul Haffer, a young socialist, was Thursday sentenced by Judge Card in the superior court to serve four months in the county jail and to pay the costs of the trial. This action was taken following a motion by Haffer's attorney for a new trial, which was denied.

Two days' time was granted for the filing of notice of appeal, and Haffer was permitted to enjoy his liberty on bail meanwhile. P. L. Pendleton, attorney for Haffer, indicated his intention to appeal the case to the supreme court.

Three Big Ones
At The Vining

Monday.

Dashing waves and dashing beauties in costumes most suitable for dashing into the waves are photographed with artistic lavishness in "Undine," the Bluebeard aquatic fantasy which will be shown at the Vining tonight.

An aquatic spectacle or fantasy, taking its name from an old German fairy tale, is "Undine." Practically all of the action, or, rather, scenes, show the Pacific ocean, islands, caves, coves and grottoes at the Santa Barbara Islands, off the coast of southern California. Mermaids wear seaweed and flowing hair for the most part, but the handling of the theme is artistic, the work of Henry Otto, and nothing objectionable is injected. The story is a pretty little tale and the pictures are beautiful.

Tuesday.

With her wealth of blonde hair tucked under a boy's torn cap, her saucy head appearing above a dilapidated jersey, Blanche Sweet will make her appearance at the Vining on Tuesday evening, in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Ragmuffin," William C. De Mille's thrilling drama, written especially by him for her.

The beautiful Miss Sweet is seen as a girl of the slums who has been brought up by an old crook who uses her in his illegal calling and stands as a father to her. How, while burglarizing a house, she meets the young man whose photograph makes her change her entire career, goes toward making a photodrama that is considered by those who have seen it to be one of the most unusual and thrilling plays ever shown on the screen.

Wednesday.

Manager Bergner told us to "go the limit" on this picture. He tells us he has received phone calls and telegrams from managers to the north giving it their highest approval and stating unqualifiedly that it is as great if not greater than it is "Spoilers." But we are getting a little ahead of ourselves. This picture that awakens even the jaded enthusiasm of the theatre managers themselves is a great William Fox feature, "Fighting Blood," with William Farnum, hero of "The Spoilers," in the lead. The story is a real "American" story of the Farnum type. Laid in city, lumber camp and frontier town and culminating in a fight which is said to make the great fight in "The Spoilers" look like a sewing bee by comparison.

The holder of the lucky ticket on Wednesday evening will receive a "roundup" hat, the kind the boosters are wearing.

Pageant Will Bring
Greatest Crowds

Pioneer avenue and Lithia Park Drive will be roped off from 7:30 to 10 o'clock Tuesday night on account of the pageant and will be used for parking space for automobiles. The greatest number of automobiles which have yet been gathered in Lithia Park will arrive soon after the dinner hour tomorrow evening, bringing the crowds from the valley to see the great pageant which is to be staged in the auto camp. The city council gave permission to the ladies for the roping off of the streets and made arrangements for the lighting of the camp ground at Thursday's meet.

"The Masque of the Myths," from "The Heart of the World," will be staged by 100 dancers from Medford under the auspices of the Ashland Civic Club and the Greater Medford Club. Mesdames Rocho, Barber, Whitney and Bert Groer will sell tickets, and everyone is urged to pin their ticket where the officers may see it, as the immense crowd will be hard to handle.

Two Trains To Be Taken Off

Local Southern Pacific Agent G. N. Kramer received word this morning from General Manager G. M. Scott that trains 53 and 54, which were put on last year to handle the exposition crowds, are to be taken off on May 28. A limited train will be placed in service between Portland and Eugene.

Harold Frohbach, a member of the graduating class of the high school, is to start Thursday on a trip to the east. His first stop will be Los Angeles. There he will be joined by his grandmother, Mrs. A. Frohbach, who will accompany him on the remainder of his journey back to Milwaukee. He will spend the summer there and attend the University of Wisconsin at Madison next winter.

Teachers Various Occupy Themselves

There seems to be an epidemic of "going home" among the high school teachers. Most of them say when asked what they are going to do this summer, "Oh, I am going home." Those who are not going home are to take summer school. Some of them would not tell what they intended to do—others did not know. Here are the plans for some for the summer:

Professor Felix E. Moore is to take a traveling course in geology under direction of the University of Oregon. He will spend most of his time in the northern Rockies, chiefly in Glacier and Yellowstone national parks. This should be a very interesting course.

Miss Helen Van Housen is to "go home" to Elgin, Ill. She will take the southern route.

Miss Wilmette Hassinger is to spend her vacation "at home" in Denver. (She very seriously informed us that Denver was in Colorado.) She was to leave Friday.

Miss Laura McCormick is also "going home"—to Tabor, Iowa. She is going by the central route and is to stop once in a while on the way to visit. She will return by the Canadian route.

Miss Irene Ringheim is undecided. She says she may teach summer school.

Mr. Delmar Harman is going home to work on the ranch this summer. To him home is Nebraska City, Neb. He will leave sometime in June.

Mr. Giles M. Ruch intends to take summer school at the University of Oregon—that is, if he does not change his mind.

Mr. Lynn T. Hodge is undecided. He says he may take summer school and he may not. He says home is too far away for his pocketbook to carry him there.

Miss Harris is another home lover. She left during the last of last week for her home in Rock Island, Ill. She is going by Los Angeles, New Orleans and the Mississippi river.

Mr. Robert R. Hutchison left Friday for Crater Lake. He is going to make an attempt to reach it. When he returns he will leave for his home in Paxton, Ill. After a short stay there he will go to Flint, Mich., where he will take up a position of head designer in the Chevrolet Motor Car Company factory there.

Miss Elfrida Merz will join Miss Harris at Los Angeles and go home with her. Her home is at Madison, Wis. She left Wednesday.

Miss Vera Moffat is to attend summer school at the University of Oregon for a while. Later she intends to go to a physical training school in New York.

Superintendent George A. Briscoe is to aid Superintendent Peterson of Klamath county in conducting a teachers' institute at Klamath Falls from June 12 to 27. He then expects to attend a summer school at Chicago for about six weeks. From here he goes to New Albany, Ind., to visit his folks. He, also, is going home.

Glass of Water Envelopes.

The glass of water envelopes are now on sale at Poley's drug store and East Side Pharmacy at the same price as at the Tidings office. Citizens should buy these envelopes and use them on all their correspondence. It is a small contribution to so great a cause as the establishment of Ashland as a resort of consequence. Every citizen owes that much to the cause. Buy and use the glass of water envelopes in all your correspondence. The future of Ashland will be determined largely by the force each citizen puts behind its enterprise.
